Buy Before the Rebound Comes

The reduction in price has been made—One year ago these homes would have sold for $2,000 to $3,000 more than now asked

It is estimated by a Government Bureau, competent to judge, and possessed of facts, that the nation is short 1,800,000 homes and that Memphis' share is more than 2,000. If 2,000 families are homeless today, and 1,000 more families are being added to the city's population each year, how long will it be until there are enough homes to go around, if Memphis builds 500 homes a year? The foregoing figures can not be sidestepped. Memphis actually is short 2,300 homes instead of 2,000. Memphis' normal growth is now 4,061 persons (1,000 families) per year. Less than 500 homes have been built in 1920—many less than 500.

10% Cash

—Balance payable at one-half of what we have refused to rent it for.

It Is Easier

—To pay for this home now than to pay rent.

Building operations are at present hampered by "tight money." This has caused sharp declines in building materials—lumber, cement, brick, roofings, etc.

If you were to build now, today, the bungalows pictured here would cost you fully 10 per cent more than the prices we can quote you upon them. "Tight money" is becoming easier. Mortgage bankers are offering "loans on real estate." As soon as this money becomes plentiful building operations resume—and up goes the price of materials.

Why wait to buy a home? Why pay a hundred to a hundred and fifty a month to live in a rented house when for a good deal less than that you can be living in and paying for your own home?

We refer to the high-class bungalows now ready for occupancy in North McNeil and Glen View sections. Prices have been reduced considerably. Terms are within your ability—10 per cent cash, with monthly notes of half what has actually been offered by families wishing to rent them.
